The Normal Institute of Ford County will convene at 7:45 a. m. June 9th, 1990, in the public school building in the east part of Dodge City. Every Teacher in the county is urged to attend the whole term. If a teacher is lacking in experience he can not afford to be absent from the Institute if they expect to succeed as a teacher. If his wisdom and experience place him beyond the power of others to help him, by all means let us have him with us that we may recieve the benefit

About 2000 importers from several cities are expected here this week, who will endeavor to have a hearing; but it is said that the committee will endeavor to maintain its determination not to give oral hearings to interested persons. The democratic senators have decided that Mr. Carlisle should succeed Mr. Beek on the finance committee. No man has been given such an opportunity to distinguish himself upon entering the senate, but Mr. Carlisle's eminent qualifications for the place naturally carry him into it in defiance of senatorial trafitions. Senator Hiscock has introduced a bill in the Senate which is similar to the Wilson bill relating to the regulation of imported liquor by the States. It is claimed that since the "original package" decision butter is being shipped into the state of New York and sold contrary to the regulations in force there. The Hiscock bill substitutes the word "oleomargarine" for "imported liquors" which is found in the Wilson bill. For the first time in the history of the House Judiciary committee a majority of its members have agreed to a favorable report upon a joint resolution (introduced by representative Baker, of N. that was positively sickening. It was about a lovely girl who had been captured and torn from her home by a heartless white desperado and his band of blood thirsty Apaches.

"That night they camped in a rocky gorge 300 miles from nowhere, and bound the unfortunate maiden to a tree with the usual buckskin thongs, which cut deep usual buckskin thongs, which cut deep into her tender wrists. Then they all laid down and went to sleep. In the meantime Old Zeke, the Hairy Scout, who was on the trail, sneaked up just at daylight, when people sleep the soundest. Zeke sailed in and killed twenty-five or thisty bullens and then released the girl thirty Indians, and then released the girl and got her sometheng to eat out of his saddle-bags. This was where I got in my

'The first thing Zeke took out of the bags was several thick slices of Vienna bread with honey on them. Next came cold boiled ham, cut thin, an apple pie with a short, crismy upper crust, and last with a short, crispy upper crust, and last a tender spring chicken roasted a delicate brown. Mind you, he had all this stuff in a pair of saddle-bags in the wilds of the Rocky Mountains, 300 miles from civilization, in the year 1836. It made me sick, but I resolved that the poor girl should have one good feed if I died for it. So I shoved in another paragraph like this, completing the bill of fare.

"After geting the girl started Zeke reached into the saddle-bag and pulled out a bowl of steaming hot consomme and a broiled fresh mackerel, some deviled erabs, cold slaw, potatoe salad, a half fry, veal cutlets breaded, with tomato sauce, green corn on the cob, some clam chowder stewed turkey, a portion of rice pudding, two cups of chocolate, pork tenderloin, Rochefort cheese and a bottle of Bass' ale, Saratogo chips, a plate of ranilla ice cream, a Chinese paper napkin, sliced cu-cumbers, some California grapes and a nickle-plated nut-cracker."

"Did it go?" ask an interested listener.
"No, it didn't," said the printer sadly,
"but I did. The boss came to me next morning with a proof-slip and wanted to know who was writing that story. I said the author was making a stagger in that direction, but wasn't giving the girl a fair

By the way, Chief Bushyhead of the Cherokee nation was here awhile ago, says the Washington Star, and, seeing him crossing the lobby at Willard's, I asked a friend who was with me named Van Wyck, if he wouldn't like to be in-

"Why," said Van Wyck, astonished "you don't mean to say that handsomely dressed and distinguished-looking man over there is an Indian?"

"Decidedly, ves," I replied. "Here he comes now. Mr. Bushyhead, let me introduce my friend, Mr. Van Wyck." "Happy to meet you, Mr. Van Wyck."
"Charmed to have the privilege of knowing you, Mr. Bushyhead. And really—I hope you'll excuse the remark—you are quite—er—civilized, aren't you?"
"I trust so," blandly responded the chief, ex-governor of Indian territory and one of the very rich men of that enlight. one of the very rich men of that enlight

"And are all the Indians in your tribe as civilized as yourself?" "Oh, yes."
"Do you all live in tents and wig-

And the chief drew from the inside pocket of his coat a protograph of a beautiful Queen Ahne cottage, which could not have cost less than $25,000.

"That is my summer wigwam," said Bushyhead with affability. "I have another for winter in town."

The Eleventh Census of the United States will be taken during the month of June. The census enumerators will begin their work on Monday. June 2, and will visit every house tad ask questions concerning every person and every family in the United States. The questions that will be asked call for the name of every person residing in the United States on the first day of June, with their sex and age, and whether white, black, mul. atto, quadroon, octoroon, or Chinese Japanese, or Indian, Inquiry will be made also of every person as to whether they are single, married, widowed, or di vorced, and if married, whether married during the census year. The place of birth of each person, and the place of birth of the father and mother of each person, will also be called for, as well as a statement as to the profession, trade or occupation followed and the number of months unemployed during the census year. For all persons ten years of age or over a return must be made by the enumerator as to the number able to read and write, and also the number who can speak English. For those who can not speak English the particular language or dialect spoken by them will be ascertained. For children of school age, also, the number of months they attended school will be recorded by the census enumerators. In the case of nothers an inquiry will be made as to the number of child ren they have had, and the number of these children living at the present time. This inquiry is to be made of all women who are or have been married, including all who are widows or have been divorced. Foreign-born males of adult age, thrt is, 21 years of age or over, will be asked as to the number of years they heve been in the United States, and whether they are naturalized or have taken out naturalization papers. Of the head of each family visited the question will be asked as to the number of persons in the family, and whether his home is owned or hired; also, if owned, whether the home is free from mortgage in cumbrance. If the head of the family is a farmer, similar inquires will be made concerning the ownership of the farm-In addition to these inquires, all of which are made on the population schedule, the law under which the census is taken makes provision for special inquires concerning such of the population as may be mentally or physically detective in any respect, that is, inaane, feebleminded, deaf, blind, or crippled, or who may be temporarily disabled by sickness. disease, or accident at the time of the enumerator's visit certain special in-
